Airline Tickets: If you're fully committed to travel with us, I'll send you the suggested fly itinerary to check prices and availability. I recommend traveling with LATAM Airlines, but American and Avianca Airlines are also available. Feel free to start researching but wait to purchase your tickets until I advise you to do so, as I need a minimum of 6 participants to make this trip possible. If you want to receive assistance and good prices, I can send you the information of the Travel Agent I work with, who is familiar with our itinerary.

Travel Insurance: We strongly recommend purchasing “Cancel Anytime” Travel Insurance to cover any unforeseen risks that traveling might involve, especially to a foreign country. Travel insurance can give you some peace of mind by helping to reduce your chance of financial loss related to the issues covered. I use Allianz: <https://www.allianztravelinsurance.com/>

Trip Cancellations & Changes: We reserve the right to change our trip itinerary or cancel the trip without notice due to forces beyond our control (acts of nature, war, labor strikes, road conditions, insufficient number of participants or other conditions.) A trip cancellation due to insufficient numbers would normally occur by the date of the deposit, unless acts of nature, war strikes, or other events impede our departure causing large numbers of participants to cancel participation on the journey in the last days before departure.

If we are unable to provide you with another trip that is satisfactory, all monies paid will be refunded and shall constitute full settlement with you. We are not responsible for any additional expenses that may be incurred because of cancellation, sickness, travel delays, and/or flight cancellations, including non-refundable lodging deposits or non-refundable “advance purchase” airline tickets. A participant might be asked to leave the trip if a guide feels that their continuing participation may prove harmful to that person or to the well-being of the other participants. We are not responsible for any additional expenses incurred by such participants.

Personal Responsibility: Participants are responsible for ensuring this trip suits his/her abilities, level of fitness and health, psychological and emotional stability in any special condition and diet. In addition, the destinations are high altitude – if you are concerned about your health at these locations, check with your physician. Participants must provide us with a signed Statement of Psychological and Health Condition prior to departure.

If you choose to have a roommate and during the trip either you or your roommate move to a private room regardless of the circumstances causing the separation, you, and your roommate will be individually responsible for the extra cost of each private room. The cost might be prorated depending on each situation.
